FROM URBAN TO OPEN

Scottsdale is a one-of-a-kind Southwestern city with two distinctly different stories to tell. The city's energetic downtown is home to hip hotels and resorts, a vibrant dining and nightlife scene, world-class shopping, and renowned galleries, museums and performing-arts centers. On the flip side, north Scottsdale is known for its vast expanses of pristine Sonoran Desert, luxurious resorts and spas, an abundance of outdoor adventures and championship-level golf courses. Which Scottsdale is right for you? The good news is that you don't have to choose – you can immerse yourself in urban excitement or soothing desert beauty, or savor a bit of both! Let the following pages be your guide to some of the best that Scottsdale has in store for you – from sophisticated city delights to wide-open spaces just waiting to be explored.

Scottsdale's urban core is where you'll find all the action – from acclaimed restaurants and a vibrant nightlife scene to world-class museums, performing arts venues and the Southwest's largest retail destination.

DOWNTOWN DELIGHTS: If there's one place that embodies the best of Scottsdale's cosmopolitan lifestyle, it's the Downtown Arts, Shopping and Entertainment Districts. By day, these walkable neighborhoods will tempt you with eclectic shops, designer boutiques, Western-wear stores and fine-art galleries. You'll also find some of the city's most amazing restaurants dishing up award-winning cuisine from breakfast to midnight and beyond. And after dark, more than 100 sophisticated wine bars, lounges and nightclubs keep the fun going well into the night.

COWBOY COOL: Get your Western on at Scottsdale's oldest cowboy saloon, the Rusty Spur! This downtown landmark features live music seven days and nights a week. And if your two-step needs a little polishing, mosey on over to Handlebar J for free Country dance lessons on Wednesday evenings and live music every night.

CUTTING-EDGE ART:

Explore the modern art, architecture and design of our time through thought-provoking exhibitions at the Scottsdale Museum of Contemporary Art. SMOCA, an ingenious renovation of an old movie theater by architect Will Bruder, also is home to “Knight Rise” (above), a James Turrell skyspace that allows you to track the sun’s path across the desert sky.

RETAIL THERAPY: Ready to splurge? We’ve got just the places for you to indulge in a little well-deserved retail therapy. From downtown’s Scottsdale Fashion Square (above), the Southwest’s largest shopping mall, to sunny, open-air centers like Kierland Commons and Scottsdale Quarter, Scottsdale is a shopper’s dream destination.

CENTER STAGE:

The Scottsdale Center for the Performing Arts shines the spotlight on stars of theater, music, comedy and dance. Martin Short, Jane Lynch, Alan Cumming, Pilobolus, the Peking Acrobats and the Count Basie Orchestra are just a few of the luminaries who have recently delighted near-capacity audiences at the Center.

TASTY TOURS: Let Arizona Food Tours introduce you to some of downtown's most popular restaurants. You'll sample distinctive food and wine from half a dozen fabulous restaurants, with stops along the way to absorb a little of downtown's colorful history. Both lunch and progressive dinner tours are available.

MUSIC OF THE WORLD:

You can see, hear and play instruments from around the world at the Musical Instrument Museum. More than 5,000 instruments and cultural artifacts are on display, including instruments played by icons like Eric Clapton, John Lennon and Carlos Santana.

WESTERN SPIRIT: Scottsdale's Museum of the West celebrates the pioneer spirit of the American West through changing exhibitions of fine art, rare historic artifacts and cultural treasures. Don't miss "Inspirational Journey: The Story of Lewis & Clark," a dynamic series of 100 paintings by contemporary artist Charles Fritz that chronicles the historic expedition (exhibition runs through Oct. 31, 2016).

With its rugged mountains, lush arroyos and rich cultural heritage, North Scottsdale's Sonoran Desert offers a refreshing change of pace. Hike a trail, relax with a desert-inspired spa treatment or take a shot at target-style golf.

CHAMPIONSHIP LINKS: Combine the game you love with Scottsdale's picturesque Sonoran Desert at one of the city's target-style courses. These desert tracks combine scenic natural landscapes, strategic bunkering and manicured greens for a challenge unlike any other. Local desert-style favorites include Troon North Golf Club, Boulders Golf Club (above), Grayhawk Golf Club and We-Ko-Pa Golf Club.

DESERT RELAXATION:

Take a deep breath and repeat after us – “spaaaaah . . .” Scottsdale's renowned resort spas take relaxation to a whole new level with innovative treatments inspired by indigenous ingredients and traditional Native American healing techniques. Two to try are the Turquoise Wrap at the Spa at The Boulders and the Jojoba & Prickly Pear Body Polish at the Spa at Four Seasons.

DESERT SANCTUARY: Take a few steps down any of the 130 miles of trails at Scottsdale's McDowell Sonoran Preserve and you'll enter a world of breathtaking natural beauty. Towering saguaro cacti, lacy palo verde trees and abundant desert wildlife will vie for your attention. The McDowell Sonoran Preserve is the largest urban preserve in North America, and it protects more than 32,000 acres of pristine Sonoran Desert and mountain land for future generations. The Preserve's shared-use trails, which range from casual strolls to challenging workouts, provide easy access for hikers, cyclists and horseback riders.

AERIAL VIEWS: See the desert from a higher vantage point! Seasonal sunrise and sunset hot air balloon flights offer a serene experience as you float quietly over rolling desert terrain, at times low enough to see desert creatures scurrying about below. After your flight, you'll enjoy a champagne toast and be awarded the Certificate d'Ascension En Machine Aerostatique to commemorate your flight.

WATER WINGS: Under the category of "We didn't see that coming," you'll find seaplane rides in the desert! Desert Splash Adventures offers Arizona's only seasonal seaplane experience on its eight-passenger amphibious Cessna Caravan. Take an aerial tour of the legendary Superstition Mountains complete with a smooth-as-silk water landing on Roosevelt Lake.

OFF-ROAD ADVENTURE:

When you're ready to kick up the excitement a notch, check out Scottsdale's off-road desert tours by Jeep, Hummer and drive-it-yourself Tomcar (left). Expert interpretive guides will provide insight into the desert's ecosystem, as well as the area's colorful history. Options include eco-tours, night-vision tours and combination adventures that add in activities like river rafting or horseback riding.

SONORAN DESERT 101: Pink Adventure Tours offers two don't-miss experiences in Scottsdale. The Sonoran Desert Adventure begins with an easy half-mile stroll in Scottsdale's McDowell Sonoran Preserve to learn about the desert's history and ecosystem. Next up, enjoy lunch and stunning views of the surrounding desert and mountains as you cruise beautiful Saguaro Lake on the Desert Belle tour boat. And the new Cactus Canyon Adventure takes you deep into the heart of the Fort McDowell Yavapai Nation to learn about the diverse desert and Yavapai history and culture.

LAKE CRUISES: For a laid-back afternoon, step aboard Saguaro Lake's Desert Belle tour boat for a 90-minute narrated excursion that offers stunning views of rugged desert canyons, cactus-studded shores and abundant wildlife. Live music cruises featuring local bands are offered on Saturday evenings from February through November.

BATTER UP!

Every March, the San Francisco Giants bring Cactus League Spring Training excitement and the league's hottest new players to downtown's Scottsdale Stadium. Catch all the action from your choice of seats:

LAWN SEATING: If “laid back” describes your style best, Scottsdale Stadium’s outfield lawns are your go-to spot for Spring Training games. Grab a hot dog and a brew, spread out a blanket on the lush berm lawns, slather on some sunscreen and soak up some rays during the game.

STADIUM SEATING: The stadium’s 8,500 fixed seats offer excellent views of the on-field action. They also provide easy access to souvenirs and concessions, which run the gamut from traditional treats like hot dogs and beer to unexpected goodies like noodle bowls, barbecue and smoothies.

VIP CHARRO LODGE: This is the ultimate game-day experience! Located adjacent to the San Francisco Giants’ bullpen in right field, the Charro Lodge includes a buffet of ballpark favorites, beverages (including beer and wine), and seating on the Lodge’s spacious patio.

RESORT RENOVATIONS KEEP THINGS FRESH

Scottsdale's resorts and hotels pride themselves on welcoming guests with top-tier accommodations and warm Southwestern hospitality. This commitment to service and substance has earned them kudos from visitors and a treasure trove of diamonds from industry rating associations. It's also the reason our resorts are not content to rest on their laurels. In fact, several resorts have recently completed multimillion-dollar makeovers. So – drumroll, please – let's take a look at what's new on Scottsdale's resort scene.

The Boulders Resort & Spa, a longtime north Scottsdale favorite known for its dramatic architecture and breathtaking natural setting, celebrated its 30th anniversary in 2015 with a property-wide renovation. The design includes new architectural elements and color schemes that embrace the resort's Native American inspirations and Old West charm. All 160 casitas received an updated interior design, new furnishings and bathroom fixtures, and a fresh color palette of earthy desert tones with teal and orange accents.

The Boulders' Main Lodge, Palo Verde restaurant and Bar Lounge also received complete makeovers, including a custom registration desk of rich inlaid wood, casually sophisticated furnishings, new décor and floor-to-ceiling windows to frame views of the 12-million-year-old boulder formations for which the resort was named.

Come summer 2016, the AAA Five-Diamond Fairmont Scottsdale Princess will boast an additional 102 guest rooms, including three luxury suites, for a total of 750 guest rooms.

The new rooms will be consistent with the resort's contemporary Southwest décor and will feature patios or balconies with louvered sliding doors for an indoor/outdoor living experience. Other property upgrades include the 6,900-square-foot Sunset Beach pool, which will be entirely zero-edge entry with an expansive white-sand beach, swim-up bar and splash pad.

In still more makeover news, the former Scottsdale Resort & Conference Center recently debuted as The Scottsdale Resort at McCormick Ranch, A Destination Hotel, following a $9 million, property-wide transformation that features an upscale Mexican hacienda-inspired theme. And at Sanctuary on Camelback Mountain Resort & Spa, a $10 million renovation included the debut of mountainside Camelback Casitas and Camelback Suites, and Spa House, a wellness retreat for small groups.

Finally, we'll leave you with a sneak peek at the city's newest gem, the Andaz Scottsdale Resort & Spa, which is slated to open in 2016. Nestled on a 22-acre desert oasis, the resort will feature 201 guest rooms, multiple pools and a luxurious spa. The rooms will be situated in bungalow clusters for a fresh take on the resort experience and will feature private terraces with outdoor showers and fire pits to connect guests with mountain views and the spectacular desert landscape.

PEDAL POWER

You're on vacation, but you'd still like to keep up with your fitness program (and burn off that amazing dessert from last night). Combine exercise and exploration with complimentary bike-loan programs at these Scottsdale properties.

BESPOKE INN, CAFÉ & BICYCLES

Guests of downtown's posh Bespoke Inn (above) can borrow one of their hand-made British Pashley city bikes for a tour of the area's art and shopping districts or a scenic ride along the Indian Bend Wash greenbelt. The on-property bike shop also loans out high-end steel road bikes if that's more your style. Helmets, baskets, suggested routes and maps are provided. (pg. 38)

HYATT REGENCY SCOTTSDALE RESORT & SPA AT GAINNEY RANCH

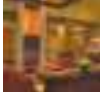

Biking is a family affair at the Hyatt Regency Scottsdale, which offers a variety of beach cruisers and Townie hybrid electric road bikes, as well as trailers and bikes with training wheels for young explorers. Guests receive a trail map created by Athletic-Minded Traveler to take along on their ride. (pg. 52)

FIRESKY RESORT & SPA – A KIMPTON HOTEL

The resort's cheerful, cherry-red PUBLIC bikes sport rear baskets that are perfect for carrying a chef-crafted picnic basket prepared by the resort's culinary team at Taggia. The three-speed European street cruisers feature cream tires and a brass bell and come with a map of attractions within biking distance of the resort. (pg. 44)

Many of Scottsdale's other full-service hotels and resorts offer bicycles for loan or rent. Inquire with your property's concierge for more information.

CULTURAL CONNECTIONS

Scottsdale's cultural identity is deeply rooted in the various Native American tribes who live, work and thrive in the city and surrounding areas. From the heartbeat rhythm of the drum and the lilting notes of the flute to the power and athleticism of championship-level hoop dancing, Native American culture is yours to explore thanks to live performances, art collections and museum-quality exhibits at several Scottsdale resorts.

The Hyatt Regency Scottsdale Resort & Spa at Gainey Ranch offers free performances of Native American music, dance and storytelling by the Living Traditions Dance Troupe every Friday evening year-round at 5 p.m. This cast of talented artists and musicians, led by seven-time World Hoop Dance Champion Derrick Suwaima Davis (Hopi/Choctaw; above), thrills guests with the Eagle Dance, Southwest Horse Dance and Hoop Dance before inviting the audience to join them in the closing Round Dance. The resort also offers the Native American Learning Center, which allows guests to learn about Native history, culture and teachings through masterworks of Native artists, cultural exhibits and a reference library. (pg. 52)

At Talking Stick Resort, located on the Salt River Pima-Maricopa Indian Community, guests can enjoy free cultural presentations by Yellow Bird Productions Fridays and Saturdays at 6 p.m. (fall through spring). The program begins with Akimel Au-Authm singing and Pima dances, and also highlights other traditional dances including Plains-Style Fancy Dance,

gifts from the desert

TRADITIONAL BOTANICALS INSPIRE MODERN

On the eastern boundary of the Salt River Pima-Maricopa Indian Community, Red Mountain rises majestically from the desert floor, just a stone's throw from the crystalline waters of the Salt River. The mountain is a sacred landmark for the community's Akimel Au-Authm (Pima) and Xalychidom Piipaash (Maricopa) tribes, a place that symbolizes the home and heart of their people. Here, at the higher elevations, is where fragrant desert lavender grows freely—the same desert lavender that has inspired one of several botanical-based treatments at the community's award-winning Spa at Talking Stick Resort.

“All of the botanicals used in our signature treatments were at one time gathered or farmed on the community's land,” said Spa Director Teri Kramer. “We've worked closely with botanists and community members to select traditional herbs and plants with significant healing properties.”

Desert lavender is the key ingredient in two of the Spa's signature treatments, the Desert Lavender massage and Peaceful Healing ritual. Desert Lavender begins with a Swedish-style massage using lavender and wild chaparral oils to encourage relaxation and release tension. Then, tufts of velvety Pima cotton are brushed along the arms and legs in feather-light strokes to simultaneously awaken and soothe the central nervous system.

Peaceful Healing, a profoundly calming and centering treatment, begins with a gentle massage using heated stones gathered from the Salt River. Next, warm, moist Pima cotton poultices filled with fragrant desert lavender, herbs and essential oils, such as clary sage and sweet orange, are applied in rhythmic compressions along the body's energy meridians. Following a closing massage with aromatic oils, you'll feel at once deeply relaxed and effortlessly revitalized.

Another signature treatment, the Sweet Mesquite & Honey body polish, features one of the Sonoran Desert's most familiar trees. The sweet mesquite, a staple for the Pima and Maricopa people, is known for its value as a medicinal plant and a source of food. Traditionally, every part of the tree was used – the leaves were steeped to make healing body washes, branches were used for fuel and to make tools, and the beans provided an excellent source of protein and low-glycemic carbohydrates. In this hydrating, nourishing treatment, sweet mesquite, salts and grains are used to gently polish the skin and open the pores so that your body can absorb the healing botanicals.

The Spa at Talking Stick's sublime treatments will soothe your body, but it's the views from its 14th-floor perch that will stir your soul. And on that note, we'll leave you with one enticing morsel of advice – don't bypass the showers. Just relax, breathe deeply and enjoy the view.

JOURNEY OF THE SACRED CIRCLE

Inspired by Native American traditions that harness the energy of the Medicine Wheel for integrated healing of the mind, body and soul, the Spa at The Boulders Resort offers the Journey of the Sacred Circle. The series of four treatments, one for each compass point on the wheel, is a transformative experience that helps guests find inner peace and gives them the personal tools they need to deal with life's major challenges. The four components of the Journey are:

- AWAKENING – THE EAST

A hot stone massage using a proprietary oil blend of arnica, white sage, lavender, vetiver and cypress provides grounding within the body and awakening for the journey to come.

- INTROSPECTION – THE SOUTH

Gentle cranial-sacral work brings a deep understanding of illusions that one might be holding onto. This is followed by the placement of a sage poultice on the belly and a hot herbal wrap to symbolically “burn” the untruths away.

- CLEANSING – THE WEST

A Turquoise Sage Salt Polish scrubs away all of the untruths identified in the South and a vichy shower washes them down the drain. A warm wrap of aloe gel scented with grapefruit and jasmine essential oil soothes the body.

- INTEGRATION – THE NORTH

The journey ends as it began with a hot stone massage, this time using long, sweeping strokes to fully integrate the body with everything that's been experienced.

“Our goal is to create a very sacred space for our guests,” said Senior Spa Therapist Kelli Casella. “Through this transformative Journey, they can find clarity with issues they've been struggling with and focus on healing in a very supportive environment.”

hidden gems

COURSES YOU CAN'T AFFORD TO MISS

Scottsdale is well known for big-name courses like TPC Scottsdale, Troon North, Grayhawk and We-Ko-Pa. And with more than 200 golf courses in the city and surrounding area, it's easy to overlook a few hidden gems that provide an outstanding golf experience. Here are some local favorites you won't want to miss.

Starfire Golf Club, formally Scottsdale Country Club, is a daily-fee, public course featuring 27 holes of exceptional golf in north central Scottsdale. The Arnold Palmer design takes players on a winding journey through thick eucalyptus, pine and cottonwood trees as they navigate three nine-hole layouts (King, Hawk and Squire). Each track presents unique challenges including many scenic par 3s that carry over water, while the sporty and narrow 339-yard, par-4 finishing hole of the Hawk requires the perfect combination of distance and accuracy.

Located at the beautiful Hyatt Regency Scottsdale Resort & Spa, Gainey Ranch Golf Club's lush greenery and sparkling waterways set the standard for Scottsdale area golf courses. The first of the club's three nine-hole courses, The Lakes, is a gorgeous challenge with gently cascading water features on six holes including the spectacular waterfall on the finishing hole. The aptly-named Dunes course is similar to a Scottish-style links course with natural hazards and sand dunes. And the Arroyo course, the longest of the three nines, requires both power and placement, especially on the peninsular green of the finishing hole. While the club is a private facility, guests of the hotel are permitted to play.

Rancho Mañana Golf Club is located on the northern edge of Scottsdale in historic Cave Creek. Easily one of the most scenic golf courses in the Valley, this par 70 snakes along the town's namesake natural riparian area with decades-old shade trees, abundant wildlife, spectacular views and elevation changes. Plus after golf, Rancho Mañana is home to the award-winning Tonto Bar & Grill.

WHY I CHOOSE SCOTTSDALE

By Brandel Chamblee

I'm pretty fortunate. Not many people get to make a living and travel the world playing golf. I did just that for most of my adult life. Now, although I no longer play for money (officially), I still travel and make my living thanks to golf. And, I am free to live pretty much wherever I like, so long as I can make it to Orlando when they need me in studio.

That's why, when it came time for me to decide where I would live, I chose Scottsdale. For my money, it's the best of the best. Eight months of the year, the weather is as good as it gets. And, even in the summer, 100 degrees in Scottsdale is a LOT more comfortable than 90 degrees many other places.

The golf courses are fantastic. Truly, some of the most beautiful and dramatic I've played. Speaking of beauty, if you love the outdoors like I do, it's hard to beat Scottsdale. The desert here is magical. Just minutes from my house, I can be completely surrounded by nature, and then be home in time to get the kids to school or meet friends for breakfast.

On the more refined side, the restaurants, cultural attractions, shopping, nightlife and major sporting events stack up favorably against those of any city in the world. And, the laid-back atmosphere and friendliness of the people make everything feel just right. No wonder so many of my PGA TOUR friends make Scottsdale home, too.

GUIDED HIKES OFFER UNIQUE INSIGHTS

Ready for a little adventure? Lace up your hiking boots and head for Scottsdale's McDowell Sonoran Preserve. The largest urban preserve in the Americas, this desert sanctuary encompasses more than 30,200 acres of rugged mountains, towering saguaro cacti, lush desert washes and abundant wildlife. All of the Preserve's 130 miles of spectacular trails are open to self-guided hiking. But if this is your first visit, we recommend reserving a spot on one of the McDowell Sonoran Conservancy's (MSC) new private hikes to learn about the desert's many wonders.

Led by trained MSC stewards and other local experts, these paid interpretive hikes provide an unparalleled glimpse into the Sonoran Desert's fascinating history, geology and ecosystem.

"These hikes are tailored to our guests' desire to experience different aspects of the Preserve," said MSC Director of Development and Communications Edward Phillips. "They range from easy, one-hour nature walks to challenging, three-hour mountain treks, so there are options for people of all ages and fitness levels."

One of the unique outings offered by MSC is the two-mile Tai Chi Hike led by Master Teacher Ray Sol. "Tai chi emphasizes balance and stability, strength and flexibility, and relaxation and stress relief – all while moving," said Sol. In addition to graceful, flowing tai chi exercises, Sol teaches his groups qigong deep-breathing techniques to cleanse the body and improve relaxation. “This hike is a beautiful, moving experience,” said Sol. “And nothing beats walking along the Preserve trails and watching nature come alive all around you.”

On the Nature’s Pharmacy Hike, you’ll learn about the healing and restorative properties of desert plants. This four-mile walk focuses on the region’s early Native American cultures and how they used indigenous desert plants for food and medicine.

If you’re a rockhound, the 4.5-mile Geology Story is the hike for you. You’ll hear about the geologic history of the McDowell Mountains, examine their bedrock and see huge folds in the rock created more than a billion years ago.

Other popular hikes include the Bird Walk, Wildflowers Hike and Desert Ecology trek. These private, fee-based hikes complement a wide range of free programming offered by the MSC, including public hikes, experiential programs for children and presentations on desert flora and fauna by local experts.

No matter which hike you choose, be sure to bring your curiosity and your camera – you’ll be rewarded with a one-of-a-kind experience, breathtaking scenery and memories that will last a lifetime.

call of the west

NEW MUSEUM CELEBRATES WESTERN SPIRIT

For generations, the call of the West has proven to be as irresistible as a nugget of gold in a prospector's pan. But what exactly is it about the region and its history that continues to captivate people from around the world? For the answer, we went to Tricia Loscher, Chief Curator of Western Spirit: Scottsdale's Museum of the West.

"The first things that come to mind are the amazing sunsets, skies and landscapes," said Loscher. "They've long been an attraction for artists and writers, and have really set the tone for the romance of the West. There's also a sense of new lives and new beginnings, as well as a fascinating cultural element – from American Indians, cowboys and pioneers to people who have immigrated from all over the world. What it really comes down to is the indomitable spirit of the land and the people who call the West home.”

It's that resolute spirit of optimism, perseverance, courage and creativity that is on grand display at Western Spirit, which opened in downtown Scottsdale in January 2015. Since the museum's opening, approximately 100,000 guests have immersed themselves in the art and cultural artifacts of the West, including an unparalleled collection of works by contemporary painter Charles Fritz.

The exhibition “Inspirational Journey: The Story of Lewis and Clark Featuring the Artwork of Charles Fritz” presents a dynamic series of 100 paintings chronicling the early 19th century expedition of captains Meriwether Lewis and William

Clark. More than 200 years after the historic journey, Fritz retraced their route – twice – and interpreted the explorers’ journals with his paintings. The exhibit is on view through Oct. 31, 2016.

Also currently on display (through May 31, 2016) is “A Salute to Cowboy Artists of America and a Patron, the Late Eddie Basha: 50 Years of Amazing Contributions to the American West.” The retrospective features artworks on loan from CAA artists, as well as the Eddie Basha Collection (the largest privately owned collection of contemporary Western American and American Indian art in the country), and others.

High-profile, changing exhibitions like these complement a stellar assortment of quintessentially Western items on loan to the museum from prominent collectors. The “A.P. Hays Spirit of the West Collection” features gems like Texas Ranger badges, hand-tooled saddles, and spurs galore.

“At its foundation, our museum is about stories,” said Loscher. “The stories of the people who traveled West, the people who capture the essence of the West in their art, and the collectors who share their treasures. These stories keep the West alive for all of us to enjoy.”

ODYSEA IN THE DESERT

Come summer 2016, there will be sharks in the Sonoran Desert. And penguins, jellyfish and octopus, too! No, this isn't a post-apocalyptic vision in which California has fallen into the Pacific, leaving Arizona with oceanfront property. It's the grand opening of OdySea Aquarium, one of the most highly anticipated attractions to make a splash in the Scottsdale area.

The two-level, 200,000-square-foot aquarium will be the largest of its kind in the Southwest and promises a high-tech, high-entertainment, oceanic educational adventure like no other. A sampling of the planned exhibits includes Rivers of the World, The Shores, Penguins, the Great Barrier Reef, and The Bizarre & The Beautiful, which includes jellyfish, octopus, large king crabs and seahorses.

Guests will move to each level via acrylic tunnels while viewing some of the most fascinating animals from the world's rivers and oceans. Even the restrooms will have floor-to-ceiling windows for aquatic-life views! Other features will include a state-of-the-art 3D theater, Lighthouse Café and the SeaTREK experience, which will allow guests to descend deep into the "ocean," where they will be surrounded by sea creatures on all sides.

OdySea Aquarium joins Butterfly Wonderland and the OdySea Mirror Maze, which opened in 2013, as part of the OdySea in the Desert entertainment complex on the Salt River Pima-Maricopa Indian Community just east of Scottsdale. When complete, the complex also will include The Shops at OdySea retail center, Fliteshop indoor skydiving facility, and AZ Skywheel, a 180-foot-tall ferris wheel.

CITY'S ART SCENE SHINES IN DOWNTOWN

Scottsdale celebrates art in all its forms. Throughout the city you'll find hundreds of fine-art galleries, stellar performing-arts venues, and a public-art program that's nearly 100 pieces strong. But if you don't have time to explore all of Scottsdale's vibrant arts and cultural scene, just head downtown – this is where the arts truly shine.

Start your exploration of downtown's art and cultural scene at the Scottsdale Museum of Contemporary Art. SMOCA, an ingenious renovation of an old movie theater by architect Will Bruder, explores the modern art, architecture and design of our time through a variety of changing exhibitions. One of the most talked-about installations to visit SMOCA in recent years is “Ferryman’s Crossing” by acclaimed British light artist Bruce Munro. On display through April 24, 2016, “Ferryman’s Crossing” features shimmering rows of reflective compact discs lit by pulses of light that evoke sunlight bouncing off the surface of the water. SMOCA also houses “Knight Rise,” a James Turrell skyspace that allows you to track the sun’s path across the desert sky.

Next door to SMOCA, the Scottsdale Center for the Performing Arts welcomes stars of theater, dance, comedy and world music to its stages. From the gravity-defying works of the Pilobulus dance troupe and thundering rhythms of TAO’s taiko drummers to American originals like Lyle Lovett, Jane Lynch and Michael Feinstein, the Center’s annual roster is a tribute to the performing arts at their finest.

Just a few steps east of the Center, you'll find one of Scottsdale's most beloved works of public art: Robert Indiana's "LOVE" sculpture. This icon of the pop art movement is one of nearly a dozen monumental public art installations in downtown. Other celebrated works include the Soleri Bridge & Plaza, designed by the late Italian architect Paolo Soleri; Donald Lipski's kaleidoscopic "The Doors"; and Ed Mell's "Jack Knife," which anchors the downtown Scottsdale Arts District.

The Arts District is the perfect place to discover art in all genres, from traditional Western and Native American to cutting-edge contemporary and Russian impressionism. Home to dozens of fine-art galleries, the district also hosts the Scottsdale ArtWalk. Every Thursday evening year-round, the galleries of the downtown Scottsdale Arts District stay open late from 7 p.m. to 9 p.m. and roll out the red carpet for their guests. Stroll from gallery to gallery at your own pace and enjoy artist receptions, exhibition openings and live entertainment.

RETAIL BLISS AT SCOTTSDALE FASHION SQUARE

Can you ever have too much of a good thing? Not when it comes to the one-of-a-kind experiences that await you at Scottsdale Fashion Square. In 2015, this downtown landmark completed a 141,000-square-foot expansion project that delivers a whole new level of retail bliss for shoppers.

Anchoring the expansion is a 55,000-square-foot DICK'S Sporting Goods. Now, DICK'S may not be the first name that comes to mind when you think of a high-end center that houses the likes of Neiman Marcus, Nordstrom and Prada. But according to Emily Gress, Fashion Square's senior marketing manager, it's a perfect addition.

"DICK'S Sporting Goods brings a whole new offering to the mall, particularly for outdoor enthusiasts," Gress said. "Scottsdale and Arizona have so many amazing outdoor activities to enjoy that it's great to have a store where visitors can get their last-minute hiking gear, pick up a sleeve of golf balls or grab a GoPro to record their adventures."

And DICK'S Sporting Goods isn't the only new kid on Fashion Square's retail block. Other recent additions include Michael Kors Men, Diane von Furstenberg, AllSaints, and Mitchell Gold + Bob Williams. These stores join a stellar lineup of 240 retailers in the 2 million-square-foot center.

"One of the most exciting things about Scottsdale Fashion Square is that we have more than 50 exclusive-to-market retailers – stores you won't find anywhere else in Arizona," said Gress. This impressive roster includes such luminaries as Jimmy Choo, Ted Baker London and Bulgari.

Also part of the new expansion is Camelview at Fashion Square, a luxury megaplex cinema from Harkins Theatres. A movie-goer's dream come true, the new theater features plush lounge-chair seating; wall-to-wall curved screens; a robust concessions menu that includes treats like gourmet appetizers, crêpes, personal pizzas and an espresso bar; and Vérité Lounge, Harkins' first lobby lounge with a full bar.

When all that shopping and movie-going makes you hungry, there's no shortage of options for places to refuel. In addition to a spacious food court, you'll find stellar stand-alone restaurants like Z'Tejas for zesty Southwestern cuisine and Thirsty Lion Gastropub & Grill for made-from-scratch pub grub. And if you're in the mood for burgers and shakes, East Coast favorite Shake Shack recently opened its first Arizona location at Scottsdale Fashion Square.

To make your shopping experience complete, Scottsdale Fashion Square is on the route of the free Downtown Trolley and also offers a full-service concierge who can help with restaurant reservations, transportation and package carryout assistance. The concierge also is the keeper of Fashion Square's Visitor Rewards Card – your ticket to savings throughout the mall. How blissful is that?

VINTAGE SETTING INSPIRES MODERN FARE

Nestled on a quaint tree-lined street in downtown Scottsdale, in the shade of a majestic pine, is one of Scottsdale's most popular restaurants – The House Brasserie. Open since 2012, The House is best known for its elegant menu of modern American fare by Chef Matt Carter and its enchanting, vintage-chic décor. But what often goes unmentioned is that The House is located in one of Scottsdale's oldest homes.

“My father, Lester Mowry, built that house in 1939,” said JoAnn Handley, manager of the Scottsdale Historical Museum. “He and my stepmother sketched the plan themselves and started building. My father did all the electrical work and my grandfather put in the plumbing.

“Back in those days, there was a dairy farm across the street,” continued Handley. “And when my sisters and I would walk home from school, the farm’s bull would meet us at the corner, snorting and pawing on his side of the fence, and follow us home!”

Fast forward to 2010 when the Mowry house, now in the heart of a vibrant downtown, was put up for sale and caught the eye of restaurateurs Brian Raab, Terry Ellisor and Chef Matt Carter. Following an extensive renovation, The House Brasserie debuted with a cozy, welcoming ambiance and a cutting-edge menu that changes quarterly to take advantage of locally grown seasonal produce and the finest local and imported meats.

“The opening section of the menu features sharable plates and vegetable dishes that are light and full of flavor,” said Carter. Think of delights like Chicken Meatballs & Gnocchi with smoked garlic, tomato cream and oregano crisps or Shaved Cauliflower with farro, burrata, garlic, lemon and mint.

“The entrée section features our version of classic meat dishes – veal chops, filets, duck and roasted Jidori chickens,” said Carter. “We make them our own by pairing them with unexpected garnishes like shishito peppers, charred miso sweet corn, roasted strawberries, pomme puree or whipped roast sweet garlic to add rich flavor and texture.”

To complement Carter’s artful menu, The House offers a carefully curated, by-the-glass wine list that allows you to pair a different selection with each course.

So next time you’re in Scottsdale, reserve a table on The House’s patio in the shade of that majestic pine – the Mowry’s 1946 Christmas tree – and get ready for a superb dining experience that will leave you feeling right at home.

CONCIERGE PICKS

DECADENT DISHES

“Dungeness Crab Crepes at Zinc Bistro. Ever want to lick the plate? You will with this dish! Warm Dungeness crab stuffed into a light and fluffy crepe, drizzled with tomato lobster cream sauce; butter-braised petite shiitake mushrooms and caramelized fennel finish off this perfectly delightful dish.”
Michelle Caldwell, The Phoenician

“Wild-boar bacon at POSH – this should be considered for the state dish of Arizona.”

Ted Enright, Four Seasons Resort Scottsdale at Troon North

“Chef Bernie’s Original Chopped Salad at citizen public house is a home run in my book. If I had to pick a last meal, it would include this salad. This dish is truly an Arizona staple.”
Scott Nichols, Omni Scottsdale at Montelucia

Justin Crowl, The Boulders Resort & Spa

“The Seafood Tower at Mastro’s City Hall is amazing. You can customize it with a selection of lobster, snow crab legs, crab claws, shrimp and oysters, or anything else that swims in the ocean. It is served in a bed of steaming dry ice with three levels of the most delicious-looking seafood I have ever seen. You will not regret ordering it!”

Judy Kabler, Hotel Valley Ho

Jennie Kell, FireSky Resort & Spa

MEET SCOTTSDALE'S MASTER MIXOLOGISTS

Liquid chemists. Flavor makers. Cocktail whisperers. Call them what you will, these local masters of mixology have elevated Scottsdale cocktail culture to new heights. Let's step into their laboratories and see what these innovative folks are mixing up.

Old School meets New School at downtown's Second Story Liquor Bar, where bartenders John Christie and JT Tillman are executing one of the most exciting and well-rounded cocktail programs in the country. Christie takes a classic approach that delves into the history behind the cocktail. Want to try an Old Fashioned the way it was made in the 1800s or a Corpse Reviver made with the exact recipe used during the pre-Prohibition era? Christie's your man. And if you are looking for a more modern approach, Tillman serves up delights like Miso Happy, a refreshing gin-based cocktail that uses red miso paste instead of traditional salt, and The Only Word, which features Buzz Button flower dust on the rim of the glass. You'll love it, but you might have to wait a few minutes until your tongue isn't numb to tell anyone about it.

A graduate of the Scottsdale Culinary Institute, Brian Goodwin of citizen public house uses his classical cooking background as inspiration for many of his cocktails, blending exotic ingredients with CPH's barrel-aged liquors.

"Our cocktails are classically inspired with a personal twist," said Goodwin. "They feature international spirits aged in new American oak barrels with a medium toast inside. The flavors are married by the barrel slowly over months to mellow their spirit-forward style.” Two to try are the Career Ender, a blend of Gentleman Jack whiskey, Aperol, Amaro Meletti and tea; and the Julep, featuring Bulleit rye, Giffard menthe, Aperol and AZ Bitters Lab Figgy Pudding bitters.

At Gertrude’s at the Desert Botanical Garden, Michelle Jacob created a cocktail program that emulates the restaurant’s farm-to-table approach to food by supporting Arizona distillers, brewers and wine makers. Her cocktails, hoptails and mocktails reflect the beauty and flavors of the Sonoran Desert and include favorites like the Garden ’Rita (jalapeno-infused tequila, habanero-prickly pear purée, fresh lime and cilantro, and house-made lime syrup), the Tundra (a digestif made with AZ’s Thumb Butte Rum and mint from Gertrude’s herb garden), and for designated drivers, there’s the hand-made Berry-Basil Lemonade.

There are many more talented mixologists making magic in Scottsdale, including Eddie Garcia at jade bar, Mari Howe at Cowboy Ciao and Matt Snapp of the Fox Restaurant dynasty. But since we’re running out of space, we’ll leave you with one final word . . . Cheers!

DOWNTOWN TROLLEY MAKES EXPLORING EASY

Downtown Scottsdale is composed of pedestrian-friendly neighborhoods chock-full of unique shops, art galleries and restaurants. But at a little more than two square miles, it's a lot of ground to cover solely on foot. Thanks to Scottsdale's free Downtown Trolley, you can park once and explore it all in air-conditioned comfort – and have plenty of fun along the way!

"I'm passionate about our trolleys," said Margaret Dunn, president of Dunn

Transportation, which operates the trolley service for the City of Scottsdale. “The trolleys connect visitors and residents to all of our wonderful downtown merchants, plus they connect people to people. When you ride the trolley, you’ll hear conversations going on between people from around the world. The trolley is just another way that we can welcome our visitors and help them experience everything our city has to offer.”

For first-time visitors, a trolley ride is a great introduction to downtown, thanks in large part to the service’s knowledgeable drivers. “We want our drivers to be great ambassadors for Scottsdale,” said Dunn. “Safety always comes first, but we also want our drivers to be warm and welcoming and be able to tell visitors about the city, make recommendations on things they should see, and even tell them a little about the area’s history.”

This, naturally, includes the history of trolley service in Scottsdale, which dates back to the 1980s. At that time, Molly Trolley provided seasonal ticketed service between Old Town and area resorts in open-air trolleys. As a student at Arizona State University, Dunn began her career in transportation as a driver for Molly Trolley. After graduating, she founded Ollie the Trolley in Omaha, Nebraska, and expanded to Scottsdale in 1991 when Molly Trolley ended its run. Dunn's first fleet of open-air trolleys – all with rhyming names like Ollie, Polly, Dolly and Jolly – continued the seasonal ticketed route between downtown and more than two dozen resorts.

Over the years, the trolley program has transitioned to the free downtown circulator service that's in place today. The open-air trolleys gave way to climate-controlled vehicles. And although the named trolleys are no longer on the route, they're still part of Dunn Transportation's fleet of trolleys and luxury motor coaches, and are available for charter by corporate groups, wedding parties and other special events.

So next time you head downtown, see it from a new vantage point with a ride on the trolley!

The free Downtown Trolley operates daily year-round from 11 a.m. to 9 p.m. with stops every 10 minutes throughout downtown Scottsdale, including Scottsdale Fashion Square, Old Town, Fifth Avenue and the Arts District.

NEW & NOTABLE AT SKY HARBOR

America's Friendliest Airport™ is the new definition of modern! The PHX Sky Train® now extends to Terminal 3, completing a circuit that swiftly connects passengers with easy access to all terminals, as well as the East Economy Parking Area and the Metro Light Rail.

Visitors also will notice major changes at Terminal 3, which is undergoing a modernization program to transform it into a state-of-the-art gateway to the Valley of the Sun. When construction is complete in 2020, travelers will find a consolidated security checkpoint for faster passenger screening and expanded ticket counter and baggage-claim areas. There also will be a larger variety of restaurants and retail stores, both before and after security.

Also new at Sky Harbor:

- Travelers can now help the USO bring comfort to service members in transit by dropping loose change or paper bills into collection receptacles located in front of security checkpoints in all terminals. Every year, about 23,000 troops and their families visit the USO at Sky Harbor's Terminal 4.
- Sky Harbor has elevated the meaning of "airport food" for many years, but it keeps getting better. The latest phase of restaurant openings at Terminal 4 is complete, and it boasts a Who's Who of local chow, including America's Taco Shop, Joe's Real BBQ and Lo-Lo's Chicken & Waffles. They join other local and nationally known eateries to offer a food selection to fit any taste.

CLEARED FOR LANDING

Scottsdale Airport – Sunny Days, No Delays! With two exceptional fixed-base operators (Landmark Aviation and Signature Flight Support), airside vehicle access and a convenient location, Scottsdale Airport is an ideal choice for both leisure and business travelers. U.S. Customs service is offered at Scottsdale Airport every day, 10 hours a day. And with U.S. Visit, international visitors may fly in and out of Scottsdale without first detouring to another U.S. point of entry.

This premier facility is conveniently located nine miles north of downtown Scottsdale and just minutes from the city's world-class resorts, which makes it a prime destination for private jets flying to and from the 2016 College Championship Game, Barrett-Jackson Collector Car Auction™, Arabian Horse Show, Cactus League Spring Training and the Waste Management Phoenix Open. And with Scottsdale's perennially sunny skies, pilots and passengers enjoy the country's best year-round flying conditions.

Superb facilities. Convenient location. Easy access. You're always cleared for landing at Scottsdale Airport.
